COTTON IN GLENDALE

A Remarkably Successful Experiment

At Second and Glendale avenue may be seen a small cotton plantation, consisting of some flourishing specimens of the plants which have been growing there for some months past, being cared for by Mr. Samuel Piske. The seeds were sent to Mrs. E. T. Byram from the agricultural department at Washington, the officials of which being desirous of trying experiments with cotton in Southern California, made arrangements through Mrs. Byram for the planting of the seed and its subsequent care. Last Wednesday two gentlemen connected with the cotton department of the government experimental work, visited Glendale. They were Prof. F. O. Cook and Mr. McLachlan, a nephew of Congressman McLachlan. The variety grown here is the strongest fiber, which produces the strongest fiber. The visitors were very much surprised as well as pleased with the result of the experiment in Glendale. They found that in quality the product surpasses anything they have found elsewhere, being of unusual strength and fineness, while as for quantity they found bushes running as high as 120 bolls, the average being 80. In Arizona the plant attains a greater height, but is not so strong, while the output in cotton so far has been much less there. The crop has not yet matured, as the plants now growing are a second planting, but Prof. Cook thinks that unless caught by an unusual frost the bolls will soon burst open when it will be ready to harvest. The visitors went away with arms full for distribution and examination. They were also much interested in the dates grown by Mrs. Byram, which they pronounced as being of unusually good quality. They will return again to note results in regard to both products.

BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE.

There has been a marked increase in activity along real estate lines during the past ten days. The number of strangers in evidence on our streets increases daily. A notable and gratifying feature of the sales made is that in nearly every instance it means the addition of a new family to our community. Aside from the rapidly increasing number of homes, there are new business enterprises being planned for and actually under way. The flower building on the corner of Fourth and Brand is being pushed forward rapidly. The trees are being removed from the parkway on Fourth street aligning the old High school property, the intention of the owner being to widen the sidewalk out to the curb as preparatory probably to the erection of one or more business structures.

The report of the building inspector shows the following among other applications: H. P. Smith, 326 Everett, house to cost $2000; J. P. Shropshire, contractor, 1200, Ninth street, house to cost $1200; Chas. Shackford, 325 Belmont street, house to cost $1500.

Among other new residences just being started are the following: W. H. Sipple, Orange Grove avenue and Cedar street, a $1600 cottage; John H. Robinson, Woolcott near Central, A. Maurer, contractor, $2500; Mrs. Case, Seventh and Central, $1600; H. D. Brown, contractor, Contractor W. A. Anderson has the contract for and is building three houses for Mr. Lawson, each to cost about $2000. One is located on Riverside drive, another on Tenth street and a third on Mary street between Second and Third. On Ivy street near Columbus, Mr. Lawson is building a $1400 cottage for C. E. Clay.

The large house on Orange Grove avenue, corner of Everett, built by Mr. Thatcher, has been sold to Mr. Wm. F. Wood, who has taken possession with his family. Mrs. Mansfield of East First street has sold through the agency of Tupper and Co. her new house in the Colvin tract to Mr. F. Dow of Fifth street. Mrs. Olive Nelson has sold her Cedar street residence to Mr. Reid of Tropico, possession given immediately and has bought a lot on which to build on Everett street between Second and Third of B. F. Patterson.

METHODISTS REJOICE.

On Tuesday evening last the Methodists at Odd Fellows hall celebrated the sixth anniversary of the founding of their church by a banquet. It was a love feast for the members of the church and the hall was filled with them. Tables were arranged about the room laden with ample and appetizing viands, and it was not a feast of reason and a flow of soul, it was at least a feast of pleasure and a flow of good fellowship, all testifying to a spirit of thankfulness for what the church had accomplished in the comparatively short period of its existence.

GLENDALE DYE WORKS.—We do good work and do it at fair prices. Particular attention paid to ladies' garments—cleaned and repaired and made to look like new. Bring us the clothes that need to be pressed and you will be satisfied. And when it comes to dye work—well, "We dye to live," that's all. Wm. Lewis, next to Woods' hotel Brand Boulevard.

Don't call a veterinary to get the barley heads out of your horse's throat; board him at the Central Stables, where they feed out hay. Fourth and Mary.

Ernest H. Owen will sell you a lot and loan you the money to build a house. Glendale, 306 Brand Boulevard; Los Angeles, 300 Central Bldg.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

We are glad to note that newcomers of our church are among us each succeeding service. The summer months are over and it is gratifying to see the church taking on new life. Next Sunday is rally day for the Sunday school. The morning service will be given over entirely to the school exercises. In the evening the pastor will preach at the usual hour.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The usual service of morning prayer at 11 o'clock with a sermon by the rector. Citizens and strangers are invited to this service. The Sunday school meets at 10 o'clock sharp in the parish hall, corner Third and Jackson. A Bible class has been formed and new members in any grade of the Missionary which are all very active. When the church building was dedicated last June there was an indebtedness of $2000 on it, but this debt was taken care of by good subscriptions. The church property is valued at $5000. At the service last Sunday a unanimous call was extended Rev. J. W. Utter, the present pastor, for his services for another year.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

The first anniversary of this church was held on Sunday last. Very interesting services were held and reports showed the church to be in a very flourishing condition. The church membership is 160 and there are 164 pupils in the Sabbath school. The church has the usual societies, Christian Endeavor, Ladies' Aid and Ladies' Missionary, which are all very active. When the church building was dedicated last June there was an indebtedness of $2000 on it, but this debt was taken care of by good subscriptions. The church property is valued at $5000. At the service last Sunday a unanimous call was extended Rev. J. W. Utter, the present pastor, for his services for another year.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Rev. D. M. Stuart, of National City, will preach at the morning service from the text, "Almost thou persuaded me to be a Christian." The Rev. Mr. Stuart was the pastor of this church from 1900 to 1903 and then pastor at Tropico till 1907. His many friends will doubtless be glad to hear him preach in the old place once more. In the evening at 7:30 the pastor will preach on the topic, "Paving Stones."

The song service of last Sabbath evening was so decided a success that it is planned to have a similar service once a month during the winter months. Many have expressed themselves as pleased with the plan of making the congregation more appreciative of the beauties of familiar hymns and better acquainted with the authors. The anthem work of the choir is steadily improving under the able instruction of Mr. Robinson, and has already reached a good degree of excellence.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Morning service, "Our Father," the first sermon in a series on the Lord's prayer; evening, Epworth league rally and an address by Oliver Clark, state president of the Epworth league.

There was an attendance of 213 at the Sunday School rally.

The pastor is now giving a series of talks on "The Seven Churches" at the Thursday night prayer meetings. Subject next Thursday night, "The Rich Poor Church."

Meeting of the class Tuesday night to study the doctrines and polity of the Methodist church.

Martin Shock will lead the Epworth league devotional meeting Sunday evening. Subject, "A Lost Son and a Yearning Father."

Those desiring to join the special Bible class will meet Thursday evening, immediately after the prayer service.

Seven united with the church last Sunday morning. Fourteen have united with the church during the month.

The church had a very successful banquet Tuesday night in Odd Fellows hall. Account in another part of the paper. All departments of church work seem to be taking on more life.

The pastor delivers an address Sunday afternoon before the Santa Monica Bay District Sunday School convention.

W. C. T. U.

Our social last week at the home of Mrs. Dr. Sinclair was a great success. The program consisted of short sketches about our prominent workers and a short talk by Mrs. Wells, who was personally acquainted with Lady Somerset and told us of her great work in our cause.

Mrs. Palmer had charge of the program which assured us that it would be successful. Our president was also at her best, and our hostess with her beautiful home proved a delightful entertainer.

The W. C. T. U. ladies will serve supper on Wednesday evening, Oct. 27. They have had donated to them the use of the restaurant on Fourth street, where they will serve supper from 5 o'clock until 7:30. It will not interfere with anything else that may be planned for that evening. Just go there for your regular supper instead of getting it at home, and help a worthy cause. All friends of the temperance cause and all others who may be hungry are invited to patronize us. Supper, 25 cents.

Mrs. Cora Belle Howes will give an entertainment of a high order at the Filger Opera house in the near future entitled, "Cinderella in Flower Land," supported by the young people of Glendale. A more extended notice will appear next week.

ENTERTAINMENT AND SMOKER BY O. O. F. LODGE.

The smoker and entertainment given by I. O. O. F. lodge No. 358 at their hall on Fourth street, Monday evening last, was the finest thing of its kind ever held in the San Fernando valley. The program was as follows:

Orchestra, selection; song, Stanley Coates; song, A. F. Bayer of St. Louis; song, A. E. Buell; Los Angeles street scene, "Fakir Selling Patent Medicine;" piano solo, R. S. Hawcroft; violin solo, Earl B. Valentine; German dialect song, Bro. Miller; orchestra, selection; banquet.

The speaking and songs given were highly appreciated. Prof. Valentine and his orchestra furnished the music and they certainly did credit to themselves. The speeches of Mitchell, Odell, Eudemiller, Hutchinson, Dods-worth, Tuttle and Rev. Odell were excellent. The memory of the banquet will linger long in the memories of those who were present. About 100 sat down to one of the finest spreads ever served in Glendale.

An invitation had been given K. of P. lodge and a number of members of that organization were present.

The I. O. O. F. lodge has grown wonderfully in the last year and expects to double in another year. It has the largest membership of any lodge in general in Southern California. An invitation was received from the K. of P. lodge to attend their smoker Wednesday evening and we would like to see as many brothers out as possible, as a good program will be furnished.

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

At the club house last Saturday evening was held the second of those get-together meetings which promise to be an important feature of the club's work and which will no doubt be followed by good results. The company assembled last Saturday evening comprised besides the club members a large number of guests, many of whom are representatives of that class of people who are unable to attend many of the meetings of various kinds held in their home town as their duties call them to Los Angeles every day. As a means of getting acquainted one with another these club meetings are unexcelled. After an hour spent at cards and social intercourse, all adjourned to the dining room where a bountiful luncheon was spread.

It is one of the unwritten rules governing these affairs that everybody shall respond when called upon by telling a story or making a speech, and many for good measure last Saturday evening, did both. These meetings have resulted in making a number of additions to the club membership.

On Saturday evening the 30th, being Halloween, the club will give a sheet and pillow case party. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hinckley will have charge of the affair.

"WITH TOUCH OF ELBOW."

Capt. Wells's Book.

We have found this book by our fellow townsman, Capt. James M. Wells, full of interest from preface to finish and can commend it as being both interesting and instructive. While a narrative of personal adventure in the life of the author, the story is told in a pleasing style that possesses the personal interest without being even suggestive of egotism. The expedition against the Utah Mormons in 1860, with its bloodless results, was the occasion taken advantage of by the author to launch himself into an adventurous era, one of the most prolific of history-making chapters of any in the life of the republic. One of the most interesting chapters in the first part of the book is the one devoted to the "Pony Express," and close upon it comes the story of the skirmish with Indians. Captain Wells was in Virginia City, Nev., at the outbreak of the Civil war and fired by patriotic ardor left immediately for San Francisco, and thence by the isthmus for the East. He participated in the chase after and the final capture of the famous Confederate, Gen. Morgan, and was shortly afterward captured and sent a prisoner of war to Libby prison at Richmond. The story of prison life and the escape by the famous tunnel is told with all interesting details. After the escape from Libby the author took part in Sherman's march to Atlanta, with various vicissitudes, being once more made prisoner. An account of a visit to the Azores after the close of the war consists of an interesting description of that out-of-the-way portion of the world.

There are some good illustrations and a number of interesting copies of official and other documents in the book. This story of an adventurous and honorable career may be read with interest and profit by all and by the youth of the land in particular. It is published by Winston Co., of Chicago.

METHODIST RECEPTION.

The most notable event, ephraim, in the history of the Glendale M. E. church occurred last Tuesday night at Odd Fellows Hall, when about 225 of the members and congregation sat down to a banquet, prepared by the Ladies' Aid society of the church. The event was held as a reception to the pastor, Dr. J. F. Humphrey and family, and also in celebration of the sixth anniversary of the organization of the church.

After all had dined plentifully, short speeches were made by various members, in which words of welcome were spoken to the pastor and family and in recounting some of the work of the past, and forecasting plans of the future.

Mr. C. W. Burkett presided, and with introduction of the speakers who were: Mrs. F. M. Litchfield for the Ladies' Aid Society, Mrs. Harri and Mrs. C. E. Byrkit for the Missionary Societies, Henry Johnston for the Official Board, C. E. Burkett for the Brotherhood, W. L. Hovis for the League, and T. W. Watson for the Sunday School. Rev. Humphrey responded in his usual pleasant manner, and his words were him even a greater place in the hearts of his people.

The Glendale Boys' Orchestra contributed music for the occasion and Mrs. McMullen sang two songs, which received deserved applause. A hearty laugh was provided for the entire company by the amusing dialogue which was rendered so artistically by the two Misses Shropshire.

The entire evening was one of good cheer, the wedding of great acquaintance and closer fraternity among the members and friends of the congregation and all appeared to be glad they were there and hoped such occasions would happen oftener.

The Los Angeles Herald Glendale supplement which was issued last Sunday ought to be of good service in advertising our merits to the world, although it is to be regretted that it contains so many errors and is by no means well-arranged from an editorial or artistic point of view. There is much good matter in it, however, and some good illustrations.

When Benjamin S. Eaton died the other day in Los Angeles, one of the most noted of the pioneers of this section passed away. He resided for many years in Pasadena and it was after him that Eaton canyon was named. He was one of the commissioners who in 1870 made the division of the waters of Verdugo canyon which was accepted by the court and became a part of the final decree of partition. Fred Eaton, former mayor of Los Angeles, and the original promoter of the project of bringing to Los Angeles the water of Owens river, is his son.

San Francisco this week has been having a double anniversary, first to celebrate the discovery of San Francisco bay and again to rejoice over the restoration of the city such a short time ago destroyed. That San Francisco bay should have been passed by without discovery by daring navigators for two hundred years, to be stumbled upon at last by Portola, is a thing sufficiently remarkable in itself to be celebrated. But that the city destroyed by earthquake and fire three years ago should have been almost entirely reconstructed, is one of the marvels of the age. To our fellow citizens of the "Bay City" we extend felicitations.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE SUFFRAGETTES.

Lady Cook, of England, formerly and better known as Tennie C. Claflin of New York, came over the other day to help boost the woman suffrage cause, and William Randolph Hearst has declared himself in favor of it. We can well understand why William Randolph should do this. He has had the fact thrust in rather forcibly upon him that not enough men can be found to elect him to anything, and he naturally turns towards the women. But why Mrs. Cook should wish to get into the limelight again in her old age is another matter.

Anyhow they make a good team and there is no doubt rejoicing among the suffragettes over these accessories to their ranks. The poet of the faithful sings:

"The Lady Cook sails from afar,
Straightway across the ocean;
To welcome her stands William R.,
The picture of devotion.
"Oh come with me dear Lady Cook,
Before the sea gets wetter."
Says she, "Dear sir, you have mistook,
I am a suffrage getter."

THE TRAGEDY OF A WASTED LIFE.

The sad and sensational story of Lamar Harris, the brilliant young lawyer of Los Angeles, who shot himself to death after robbing a Chicago bank, will be used no doubt many times by ministers and others to "point a moral." The afflicted mother attributes his downfall to the influence of intoxicating liquors and her words will furnish a text, no doubt, for many a sermon upon the evils of strong drink. The complexities of the human mind compose a riddle that is far too difficult for even the wisest of our kind to solve, although the name is legion of those who essay to do so. But the lessons learned by observation and experience or possibly intuition, have resulted in the establishment of a few fixed principles in our minds which enable us to fairly forecast the results that will follow certain causes. The case in point seems to indicate one fatal weakness in the victim's character, and that was not a weakness, for strong drink which he merely used as an instrument, but the weakness of wanting without earning, of receiving without giving; and it is probable that the last tragic act of his life was consistent with just this particular bent of a nature which was generous in giving that which did not cost, but he had not been fortunate enough to have ever been taught the lesson by that grim schoolmaster "Necessity," that the things in life which alone can give true happiness, are those which are earned by hard work and sacrifice. In one sense Young Harris was a victim of the spirit of the age—the age of swift accomplishment, and many an individual of brilliant parts, endeavoring by short cuts to reach the object of his desire finds the solid earth slipping from beneath his feet, then "when he falls, he falls like Lucifer."

THE BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS.

A Los Angeles preacher is agitating the idea of having made a selection of non-sectarian extracts from the Bible for use in the public schools. It seems to us that the idea is a good and a reasonable one and yet the mere suggestion of it has aroused most violent opposition in some quarters. In the English speaking portion of the world at least, it may safely be said that ignorance of the Bible is incompatible with the idea of a person of learning. To acknowledge such ignorance is a confession that few men or women of any pretence to learning and culture can afford to make. It is the fountain of the best thought in our language, the well-spring of the best wisdom of the ages. Had he been unfamiliar with the Bible, Shakespeare would long ago have been forgotten; for as he is the greatest genius in the field of literature, so is he also the writer who made most frequent drafts upon the pages of the Bible for his most brilliant flights of poetry and words of deepest wisdom. The Bible has so permeated all literature that the works of the best writers of both poetry and prose are inspired by it even unconsciously. It is bad enough that it should be kept out of the schools as a book, but that objections should be made to such a compilation as is suggested by the Los Angeles divine, is strange indeed. All the religions of the world of which we know, pretend at least to teach morality, and while the Old Testament contains much that might be unprofitable to the unassisted minds of the immature, it is difficult to see how carefully selected extracts from even the Old Testament would have any other than a moral influence upon any child.

The result of keeping the Bible out of the schools is to limit to the home circle and the Sunday school the opportunity for children to become acquainted with it. And yet it seems as if more and more, year by year, the tendency of parents is to depend upon the schools for the moral education of their children. And yet there are those who would have no morality taught in the schools for fear that their children may be taught religion, and they will not have anything in the nature of religious principles inculcated there, for fear that the child may be inoculated with a kind of religion different from that professed by the parents!

And so the Bible stays out; the pupils in our schools are fed upon the cheaper imitations of literature while the sublime Psalms of David, the beautiful stories of Ruth and Esther and the great story of the life of Jesus and the words of wisdom that he bequeathed to the world, are gradually giving way to the modern and the mediocre!

SOCIALISM.

(Communicated.)

It has been charged that the Socialists are fomenting class hatred and arousing a destructive sentiment in teaching the new economy, but if it is apparent to any person of the least intelligence that the hopeless disclosures being made today through the conservative publications are arousing more bitterness than has been possible for the entire Socialist press to engender in years passed. No sooner had Everybody's Magazine exposed the rascality of the Standard Oil Co., than a hundred publishers hungry for profit began to search for like material to satisfy this new appetite for the reading public, and the material was abundant. That the writers for the magazines are telling the truth makes their work the more dangerous. With the absence of any remedy for the conditions disclosed, the wholesale recitals of graft, fraud and legalized robbery breed contempt for the regulations of law without pointing to any remedy. These efforts of the periodical press make for the destruction of existing institutions with nothing to take their place.

The work of the Socialist is for the construction of new institutions to take the place of the old as soon as they fail because of their lack of fitness. As a sample of dangerous statement of fact, read the following clipped from the well-known monthly magazine, "Success." "There is not, probably, any doubt in the minds of intelligent men that the methods by which the Standard Oil Co. has acquired hundreds of millions have been those of pirates, bandits and business assassins by comparison the sneak thief, the strong arm man and the panel operator are reputable business men." In these few words one of the leading and most successful corporations in the country is accused of crimes that are theoretically punished by imprisonment, but no one thinks for a moment that the directors of this criminal aggregation of pirates, bandits and business assassins are to be punished, on the contrary, they are the favored ones of the system and are not even to be stopped in their career.

Could anything be said better calculated to convince the thoughtless that laws are made simply to aid the financially strong in robbing the poor. In other words, what is it that makes so much for hatred of law as such statements of fact unaccompanied by any hope of relief. Here is where the saving work of the Socialist is imperatively demanded. Out of these chaotic minds must be built the conception of a new system where justice to all men shall prevail. The welfare of the race depends upon it, if the intellect of man does not carry him over the coming crisis he must lapse into an anarchic condition where instinct is the only regulator and again through centuries up the step of evolutionary civilization. Reader, will you help us turn the present wide-spread discontent into a rational desire for a higher and nobler civilization?

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Editor NEWS: Accept just a few words from a minister. It is probably not necessary to say that Glendale is situated in the most beautiful spot of any little city near Los Angeles. Where can you find a valley more beautiful than this? Here in Glendale we have a combination of valley and mountain. We have the most beautiful electric street car rides out of Los Angeles. But enough of this. Now to the point. Glendale is advertised the least of any city in Southern California. Why not every citizen become a "booster"? Why not flood the country with Glendale advertising? How are we to do this? By joining the board of trade. It seems to me it is about time the citizens from every section of Glendale should get together and work as one man. What say you? Our local organization instead of having forty members should have one hundred and forty or two hundred and forty. Here, Mr. Secretary of the Board, accept my membership and my hand to do everything possible. How many will follow suit? Hands up! Good!

Truly,
J. F. HUMPHREY.

RAILROADS—EVERYWHERE!

This is good railroad weather. It behooves the people who have infants in this valley anywhere from San Fernando southward, to keep them in out of the back yards; while as to allowing them to frequent the roads and alleys 'tis little short of infanticide. The railroad builders are everywhere, they fairly permeate the atmosphere. Up around Burbank the people are actually dodging the railroad makers who are hustling in every direction. Alex Mitchell, of the foothills, goes around with a railroad in his hip pocket and Charley Fisher (who is postmaster) is trying to make believe that he has none concealed in his clothes, but nobody who knows him believes it. Ostergard makes no attempt to conceal the one he has and there are elements of danger in it.

Glendale has them in sight most everywhere and still a-coming. With Goode they are almost a habit. Blackburn pretends to depend solely on his swift-footed "Maude" and scorns to ride in an automobile, but this is only a subterfuge. He has a railroad concealed among the bull rushes along the riverbed and the cowcatcher, it will get you "if you don't watch out."

McIntyre is lying low in an effort to keep the natives guessing where he has it, but there is only a detail or two to work out before the slaughter of innocents on the track begins. There is one of very successful Brand up near Casa Verdugo and "a hen on."

Altogether the horoscope foretells a perfect epidemic of railroads and Huntington has not yet been heard from either!

Mrs. J. R. Olshousen of Los Angeles will render a flute solo at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

A Halloween ghost party and dance will be given as a benefit at G. A. R. hall Friday evening, Oct. 29. Admission 25 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watts, recent occupants of the Frieden cottage on Home Court, spent last Tuesday in Los Angeles, visiting friends.

Mrs. Burnette of Memphis, Tenn., arrived at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Costay on Central avenue, and expects to stay here indefinitely.

Robert Taylor, who went as a representative to the State Convention of Good Templars at Santa Cruz, has returned after a week's absence.

J. Bailey Hickman has been appointed aide on the staff of W. S. Daubenspeck, department commander of the G. A. R. for California and Nevada.

Miss Margerete Frieden of Los Angeles, was in Tropico last Sunday and spent the day with her brother, George Frieden and wife of Parke avenue.

Charles A. Barker has been very ill at his home on Glendale avenue during the past week. Several times his condition was so serious that he was unable to see anyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wolfe, who moved from this place recently, going to Pomona, were in Tropico part of last week and spent some time as the guest of Mrs. Wolfe's mother, Mrs. Riley of Cypress street.

Mrs. Stratten, mother of Mrs. Elmer Lawyer of Parke avenue, who was taken to the Glendale sanitarium about two weeks ago, seriously ill, is reported as doing finely and stands more than an equal chance of recovery.

Mr. Fred Ungerland left Saturday morning for San Francisco where he will stay an uncertain length of time. He has lived in Tropico for fourteen years and will be very much missed by all his friends, and one in particular.

Mrs. Jackson and daughter, Miss Laura Jackson, who have been residents of this place for a long time, have moved to Santa Monica where they will remain permanently, providing the damp climate agrees with Miss Jackson's health.

Davenport and Black report the following sales this week: Mrs. Reed's house and lot on Tropico avenue, sold to Moses Bomhard of Los Angeles. Also, the Aaron Wolfe house and one lot on the corner of Parke avenue and the boulevard to Mr. Flanders of Cypress street.

The improvement of Eleventh street east of Glendale avenue is almost completed. It is understood that one or two of the property owners along this street and Brand boulevard at this point refuse to put in improvements and by doing so really spoil the appearance of the street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blain, in company with Mrs. D. H. Inler and Miss Cora Hickman, are expected to leave the latter part of this week for San Francisco, where the ladies will attend the convention of the Eastern Star. Miss Hickman goes as a delegate, but the other ladies make the trip for their own pleasure.

It is understood that J. R. Turck of Glendale avenue, has recently disposed of a home and one lot on the northeastern corner of his property to a relative, who has already moved onto the property. This house was formerly owned by Ira Tucker. The residence being constructed by Mr. Turck on Eleventh street is nearing completion.

W. W. McWhorter has rented his place on the San Fernando road and will soon move to Los Angeles. Mr. McWhorter has long been a resident of this valley and the people are sorry to see him leave. For the past three years he has been an active member of the local Methodist church, of which he has been a trustee. On Mr. McWhorter's ranch is a large grove of walnut trees, the crop from which he is now busy gathering.

The Home Missionary society of the local Methodist church met at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon. During the afternoon election of officers took place, the following being chosen to serve the society for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. M. M. Cole; vice president and treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Henry; recording secretary, Mrs. G. M. Link; corresponding secretary and mite-box fund, Mrs. R. W. Haines. Mesdames Link, Henry and Haines were appointed delegates to the convention, which will be held in the Westlake Methodist Episcopal church on November 4th and 5th.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

A very delightful program was enjoyed by the ladies of the Thursday Afternoon Club at the home of Mrs. Fred Richardson. Mrs. Albert Collins, as chairman of the Art and Literature Committee, read a most interesting article descriptive of the Art Exhibit now being held in the Blanchard Building by the artists of Southern California, and urged all the ladies to take advantage of this exhibit before it closes on the 30th. This was followed by a well rendered solo by Mrs. Carmack, also two violin solos by Mr. Julius Kranz, and a humorous reading by Miss Lita Belle Hibber. Afterward a pleasant social hour spent. The usual annual reception will be held at the home of Mrs. Carmack on Central avenue on the 28th of this month. Invitations will be issued.

MARRIED—CAMPBELL-RUSSELL.

Mr. Roy Campbell and Miss Mary Russell were married last Tuesday at midnight. Rev. J. E. Humphreys performed the ceremony. The date was fixed for that day and Miss Russell was on her way to Glendale from Michigan to fill her part in the program, but an unsympathetic railway company allowed its train to be delayed so that it was barely possible to make the date good. The young couple will reside for the present on the Russell Place, Third street.

LIVELY PERFORMANCE AT G. A. R. HALL.

G. A. R. hall was taken possession of last Wednesday evening by a company of actors and their many friends who gave a dance and entertainment for the benefit of one of their number in need. A special car carried a number of participants out from Los Angeles while several auto loads were also delivered. Judged by the hilarity which was emphasized by the usual quietness of the surroundings the affair was an immense success.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.

We learn that a number of suspicious characters have recently been in evidence in this vicinity. One evening last week a resident of Glendale was followed from Los Angeles on the electric car by a negro with the evident intention of robbing him of a diamond ring which he wore. The negro alighted from the car after the man he was following stepped off and followed him some distance, but fortunately two or three of the gentleman's neighbors encountered him and they proved not sufficiently attractive in a body for the negro and he fell back and disappeared.

MAIDS AND MATRONS.

This organization which is composed of ladies represented in the membership of the Country Club by the gentlemen members of their families meets at the club house on the third Monday afternoon the entertainment for the day was in charge of Mrs. Freeman G. Kelley and "Five Hundred" was the medium chosen for pastime, the ladies with few exceptions being experts at the game. The prizes fell to Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and Mrs. Menzo Williams. After cards refreshments which were elaborate and daintily served, followed by a social half hour, brought the pleasantly spent afternoon to a close.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

October 24th, 1909.

(Copyright, 1909, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

Paul a Prisoner Before Festus and Agrippa—Acts xxv:6-12; Chap. xxvi. Golden Text—I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day. 2 Tim. 1:12.

Verse 6—Who was this Festus referred to in this verse?

From the preceding five verses what had the Jews requested Festus to do?

Verse 7—On what principle can you explain the bitter hatred which the Jews had for Paul?

Will a religious bigot, who is full of hatred as these Jews were, stop short of swearing to a lie to accomplish his purpose?

Should any Christian believe or circulate a charge against any person that he has not got ample proof of?

Verse 8—As a matter of fact had Paul, in any sense, broken any Jewish law?

Which, at this time, were really in the most unenviable situation, Paul or his accusers, and why?

Verses 9-12—When a judge or a magistrate favors the prosecution, and makes harsh remarks against the prisoner during the taking of the evidence, thus prejudicing the jury, is such a man fit for a judicial position?

When a Christian is accused of wrong doing, and is innocent, should he insist upon his innocence or be patient and silent, and wait for the facts to speak?

Paul was no doubt wise in refusing to go to Jerusalem but was he equally wise in not insisting that his trial be finished at Caesarea, and in his appeal to Caesar?

If you were a minister to be tried for heresy, which tribunal would you rather select, a prejudiced Conference, or Synod, or General Assembly, or Convention, or a committee of secular High Court Judges?

Chapter xxvi:1-11—Who was this Agrippa and what had brought him to Caesarea?

If a man's cause is just, will a knowledge of all the facts always help him?

What are the leading points here outlined, of Paul's defence before King Agrippa?

"Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you that God should raise the dead?" v. 8.

Was Paul any better when he persecuted and caused Christians to be put to death, than the Jews were then in wanting to put him to death?

How do you estimate Paul's character before his conversion?

Verses 12-15—What points of resemblance are there between Paul's conversion and that of a sinner today?

Why did Paul so frequently describe his conversion?

What was God's object, as here described in Paul's conversion, and what is God's object in every conversion?

Verses 19-22—Is it possible that some sinners get a call from God fully as marked as Paul's and yet refuse to comply and go on in their sins?

What difference is there between a man before and after he turns to God? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 24-26—Why did Festus interrupt Paul and say he was mad?

Why did not Festus and Agrippa both turn to God, seeing that they were clearly convinced of the truth of Christianity and their need of salvation?

Why are not all persons Christians who have heard the voice of God calling them to repentance?
